Performance Appraisal 4 Regular Tenured Faculty 1

1 24A.11 Introduction 1 1

The primary goal of performance appraisal is the improvement of the quality 1 of the Educational program. The process should promote professionalism, 1 enhance performance, tecognize excellent performance, and be effective in 1 yielding a genuinely fuseful and substantive assessment of performance. To 1 achieve this goal, it is necessary to identify, recognize and nurture dompetence; 1 to identify standard performance and indicate areas where improvement is 1 desirable; to identify performance that requires improvement; and to identify 1 performance so finatisfactory that termination thay be recommended. 1

1

Consistent with the primary goal of appraisal, the Self Appraisal, its an integral 1 part of the processasit provides the individual faculty member an opportunity 1 for Introspection, teflection and planning. Ilt points but areas of significant 1
